A unique opportunity to create the best supercharger kits on the planet

Rotrex offers the most compact and efficient superchargers on the market combined with simple integration requirements. This allows our customers to design their supercharger kits without any compromises, maximizing the performance and value for money.

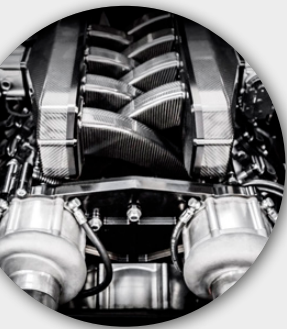

Competitive pricing supporting a strong business case

Rotrex focuses on development and production of the supercharger unit only. The unique bracket and kit design is created by our customers. Therefore, our customers have full control of the profit margins on their kit components. And, because Rotrex focus is on the head units only, cost is kept to a minimum to support competitive pricing.

OEM proven products, produced for more than 25 years

Rotrex was established in the mid-90's and honors long-term partnerships with our global after-market customers. Rotrex is also the only centrifugal supercharger used in OEM factory fitment production cars, underlining our product's reliability and performance.

Manufactured in-house - Standard delivery time 1-2 weeks

Rotrex is order driven and aims to ship volume orders within 1-2 weeks from ordering. For urgent matters a reaction stock is set up, in order to ship units immediately, and with the option to drop ship directly to your customer, minimizing delivery time.
